From the GENTLEMAN's MAGAZINE, for Auguſt 1747.

Progreſs of the Siege of Bergen-op Zoom.

FROM the Opening of the Trenches, the French ſpent nine Days in making their Approaches, during which they ſuffered very ſeverely from the Batteries of the Town and Forts, which blew up ſome of their Magazines, and deſtroyed among the reſt ſeveral of their beſt Engineers. On July 24 they made an Attempt upon Steenbergen at the Head of the Lines, and were repulſed with Loſs. They then open'd the Trenches againſt the Forts Rover and Piſſen in the Front of the Lines. By July 29, their Miners were got, by ſapping, near the Out-works in the Town, and their Trenches advanced near the Palliſadoes of Fort Rover, whence a Sally was made the next Day, in which part of their Trenches were deſtroyed. Arrived in the Town a Company of Volunteers, who afterwards did brave Service. Auguſt 1, 2, the French made two unſucceſsful Attacks upon Fort Rover; 4. A Sally was made from the Lines, in which the French were repulſed to a great Diſtance with conſiderable Loſs; their Works were deſtroyed, a Battery overturned, two Cannon nail'd, and two brought away; the French got in 4 Places near the Paliſadoe of the cover'd Way of the Town; 80 Volunteers ſlipp'd behind a Battery of 24 Pounders, and nailed them without the Loſs of a Man; two 12 Pounders being placed in their ſtead, were the next Night brought away by the ſame Volunteers into the Town, on which Mr. Lowendahl ordered the French Officer who commanded there, to be hanged upon the Battery. 5. The French in the Night, after ſpringing a Mine under the ſaliant Angle of the cover'd Way facing Cahoon's Baſtion, forced themſelves in on the cover'd Way, but were ſoon repulſed with the Loſs of near 1500 Men; during the Attack the Garriſon ſprung a Mine, that blew up two whole Companies of Grenadiers of the Regiment of Normandy, and part of the ſaid Regiment; the French however at laſt made a Lodgment, the Garriſon loſt 330 Men; 8 Volunteers carried two Bombs over the Glacis, and rolled them into the Sap of the Baſtion of Cohorn, whence ſome Men came running out, and as part of the Top flew up, and the Gabions burnt very faſt, it was ſuppoſ'd they had done good Service. 9. Lieut. General Baron Schwartzemberg, having ſucceeded Prince Waldeck, (who had reſign'd his Command, after conducting with great Skill and Expedition, a Body of Forces from the main Army, to Dutch Brabant) and being joined by all the Cavalry in the Lines, which made his Force conſiſt of 20 Battalions and 32 Squadrons, attempted an Attack on Count Lowendahl's Flank, while the Troops in the Lines and the Town, were to ſally upon him in Front: But the Enterprize miſcarried, either for want of timely acting in Concert, or by the Strength of the Enemy's Entrenchments; or perhaps from both, and the Allies came off with the Loſs of 80 Men, ſome ſay 300 Men; it had however the good Effect to ſecure the Junction of General Baronial at the Head of 6000 light Horſe, with the Army, the Alarm having recalled the Count St. Germain, who was ſent out to intercept him. 13. The French ſprung a Mine, which much ſhattered the great Gallery of the Counterſcarp, communicating with all the Works, one of the Lodgments in the cover'd Way was greatly damaged, and the others almoſt deſtroyed by it. 15. The Beſiegers attacked the Lunette of Zealand, but had 200 Men blown up, and great Part of their Works ruined by a Mine; they advanced however to the Aſſault, but were repulſed, and alſo a ſecond Time; the Action laſted two Hours, with a continual Fire from the Cannon and Muſquetry. 16. The French being reinforced, returned at Day-break to the Charge, and after ſeveral Repulſes, took Poſt on the Lunette; the Beſieged keeping Poſſeſſion of the Tambour. 17. The Garriſon made extraordinary Efforts to diſlodge the Enemy, ruined part of their Works, and fill'd up others with Faſcines, but could not force them out of their Poſt; the Conteſt was very bloody, and the Beſieged loſt ſeveral Officers, and many private Men; in the Evening 200 of the French were blown up, and 40 with a Capt. of Saxe's Regiment, were thrown into the Foſſe of the Town. 19. The Beſiegers ſprung a Mine at the Angle of the Lunette of Utrecht, and ſtorm'd it directly, but were repulſed with great ſlaughter, and could only lodge themſelves at the Foot of it. 22. The French ſprung a Mine, which blew up the Left of the Lunette of Utrecht, and broke a large Part of the main Gallery, where they immediately endeavour'd to lodge themſelves; but the Garriſon ſally'd, and after a long Struggle diſlodged them, tore away 50 of their Gabions, and filled up their Work. 23. A Mine was ſprung by the Beſieged, by which the Enemy loſt ſome Hundreds killed and wounded, and were retarded two Nights; the Garriſon received a Supply of Cannon. 24. The Beſieged blew up the Tambour in the Lunette of Zealand, becauſe of the Danger of relieving that Poſt. 25. Being St. Louis's Day, on which Count Lowendahl promiſed his Maſter to make him a Preſent of Bergen-op-Zoom, the French threw an incredible Number of red hot Balls and Bombs into the Town, and made three Attacks on the Lunette of Utrecht, but were repulſed with great Loſs. Sept. 3. The Garriſon ſprung two Mines on the Right of the Lunette of Utrecht, which not only ruined all the Enemy's Works on that ſide, but alſo blew up a whole Company of Grenadiers. The French greatly ſlackned their Work as well as Fire, and ſeem'd to want Powder, ſcarce one Third of their Bombs burſting; on the Contrary the Fire and Courage of the Garriſon increaſed daily, and the Soldiers were ſo inur'd to Danger and Fatigue, that they frequently requeſted to be left longer upon Duty than the Hours appointed. The Army of Baron Schwartzenberg, by the laſt Reinforcement from the Duke, is increas'd to 40 Battalions, and 10,000 Horſe.

In the Order of Battle iſſued by Cardinal Tencin, to the Clergy of his Archbiſhop of Lyons (in France) for publick Prayers, for the Proſperity of the King's Arms, his Eminence thus expreſſes himſelf:

" There is, my dear Brethren, a new Campaign open'd, notwithſtanding the many Conqueſts made upon our Enemies, and their vain Efforts to gain upon us in their Turn. The War ſtill raging more than ever, calls back David to head the brave People of Judah, and renews our Alarms for his precious Life. Let them not however render us unjuſt! Let them not prevent us from applauding the generous Reſolution of his Majeſty! A Sovereign, not leſs the prime General of his Armies, than the firſt Judge of his People. His Camp is his moſt agreable Reſidence. The ſole Effects therefore of our affectionate Apprehenſions for him ought to be, to redouble the Fervour of our Prayers for the Preſervation of our auguſt Monarch, and for Peace, which would wholly reſtore him to the other Functions of Royalty. If theſe are leſs brilliant, they are yet more worthy of a great King, of the moſt Chriſtian King, of a Hero. Conqueſts and Victories only make vulgar Heroes. But to decline to conquer and vanquiſh, from the Love he bears to his Subjects, and even for the ſake of his Enemies; to give them Peace, and afterwards to employ his Power for no other Purpoſe than to make the one taſte the Fruits of it, and to prevent the other from diſturbing it: It is going out of the ordinary Way of heroical Men, to gain at once Admiration and Love, and be thus upon Earth, the moſt perfect Image of the Divinity, &c.

HOLLAND.

The new Council of War is like to prove a formidable Tribunal: They have cited before them all the Officers of whatever Rank, not excepting the Prince of Waldeck, that ſerved in the Dutch Fortreſſes, which have ſurrendered to France, and demanded their Inſtructions, and all Orders in Writing; hence it is ſaid ſome Diſcoveries are made, and ſeveral Perſons privately put under Arreſt.

LONDON

LONDON, August 10.

Last Friday St. John Lo, Esqr had the Honour to kiss his Majesty's Hand at Kensington, on his Promotion of a Rear Admiral in his Majesty's Fleet, for his long and faithful Services at Sea, being introduced by the Rt. Hon. the Earl Pawlet, Lord in waiting.

We hear that a Party of General Hawley's Dragoon's, having been ordered on Saturday last to go in queſt of the Smugglers near Hawkhurſt, a Number of thoſe Villains concealed themſelves in a Wood, and fired on the Dragoons, by which four were killed and ſome wounded. The commanding Officer being acquainted therewith, immediately ſent Orders to Brighthelmſtone, and other Places where the Regiment is quarter'd, to aſſemble a Body of One Hundred Men, who went in Queſt of the Gang: which is got to ſuch a Head, that it may not be improperly called a Kind of Rebellion.

August 25. Letters from Vado of the 5th Inſtant, bring an Account, that Admiral Medley died that Morning of a malignant Fever, after nine Days Illneſs.

August 26. Capt. Proud of the Roman Emperor who was taken and carried into Morlaix arrived in Town and ſays, That on the 19th Inſtant, a Rear Admiral was to ſet ſail from Breſt with one Ship of 80, two of 74, three of 60, and a Frigate of 40; and that they had Eight more Men of War near ready in the Harbour.

On the 18th Inſt. at Nine in the Morning, his Majeſty's Ship the Bellona, commanded by the Hon. Capt. Barrington, gave Chace to a Sail, which was then ſtanding to the Eaſtward, and at One he diſcovered her to be an Enemy, as ſhe had then ſhorten'd Sail for him; in three Quarters of an Hour afterwards the Chaſe hoiſted French Colours, and fir'd at the Bellona, which Capt. Barrington not thinking himſelf near enough, being juſt within Point blank, would not return till about two of the Clock, when (Uſhant bearing Eaſt, diſtant 3 Leagues) he began to engage her cloſely, and continued ſo till half paſt 4, when ſhe ſtruck. She proved to be a French E. India Ship from Port l'Orient, called the Duke de Chartres, mounted with 30 Guns, and 195 Men, burthen about 700 Tons, laden with Beef, Flour, Brandy, Wine and Oil, &c. had alſo on board three Mortars, and a great Number of Shells. Capt. Barrington has brought her into Mounts Bay.

The Delaware, and ſeveral other Ships, bound to England, ſail'd from Scanderoon the 20th of June laſt, under Convoy of one of his Majeſty's Ships. The Man of War took in the Turkiſh Seas, a French Privateer, having on board 100,000 Dollars.

August 29. This Morning came an Account, that Commodore Acton, with the Kingſton, Cumberland, and Hardwick Privateers, had taken three Dutch Ships, one of which was bound from the Canaries to Cadiz, having on board the Treaſure of the Hector, and 400 Hogſheads of Wine, &c. which Prize only is valued at 400,000 l.

Admiral Hawk, with 8 Men of War, ſail'd from Plymouth to cruize for the Spaniſh Galleons.

There are Letters in Town, which mention the Murder of Kou'i Kan, by his ſecond Son, the Attempt of his eldeſt to mount the Throne, by the ſame Means, he had formerly diſcovered, and had puniſhed with depriving him of his Sight only; a Lenity which has probably coſt him his Life.

It is reported that the French and Spaniards, in Italy, are ſeparated.

Sept. 1. Yeſterday the Right Honourable the Lords of the Admiralty received an Expreſs from Admiral Hawke, brought by the Amazon Man of War; we have Advice, that there are 150 Sail of French Merchantmen lying at the Iſle of Dee near Rochelle, with a ſtrong Convoy, ready to ſail for the Weſt-Indies.

Sept. 3. It is ſaid, the Allies and the French are in ſuch ſituation, that a Battle is expected every Day.

Mr. Cleverly, one of his Majeſty's Meſſengers, arrived Expreſs from Italy, who, we hear, among other Things, brought an Account, that 18 Ships were taken going from Genoa, with Ammunition, Stores, &c.

Sept. 7. We hear from Portumna, that a Gentlewoman in that Town, aged about 50, and her Huſband 70-odd, and married 20 Years, but never had a Child, was on Sunday laſt bro't to bed of a fine Son.

There are Letters from India, that the Factors at Fort St. George, eſpecially thoſe concerned in the Diamond Trade, had found Means to eſcape away from thence with their beſt Effects, and got to Fort St. David's; ſo that the private Trade did not ſuffer ſo much as was at firſt imagined.

One Anne Dent, Mother of the Hoſpital at Appleby, aged above 100 Years, has cut four Teeth.

CHARLES-TOWN, in South Carolina, August 24.

On Friday laſt arrived here, the Iſabella Privateer Galley, commanded by Capt. George Twiſt, and brought in with her the Ship Patience, of 300 Tons, Robert Brown late Maſter, which ſail'd from hence on the 18th of July laſt, for London, with a Cargo of Rice, naval Stores, &c. and was taken by the Spaniards on the 23d. Capt. Twiſt ſail'd from hence about a Month ago, and falling into Company with the Walker Schooner of Frederica, cruiz'd with her, and ſoon after took a Spaniſh Privateer returning from a Cruize to St. Auguſtine, with only 9 Men on board, belonging to the Havanna, and commanded, when ſhe commenc'd her Cruize, by Monſ. Bernard, a Frenchman. This Bernard had been out about two Months, in which Time, by the Means of an Engliſhman, who very faithfully ſerv'd him as a Decoy, and by frequently ſitting out, and removing from one Prize into another, he has taken 16 Engliſh Veſſels; On the Coaſt of Virginia he took a Pilot-Boat, on board of which he mounted ſome of his Sloop's Guns, and put all her Men, except the 9 afore-mentioned, and ſail'd up Delaware River, to cut out ſome Ships he had Intelligence of by his faithful Engliſhman, but finding them gone, he went on ſhore, plunder'd ſome Houſes, carried off ſome Negroes (which are now here) and return'd to the Capes of Virginia, where he met with the ſhip Mary, Jer. Thompſon Maſter, (from London and Antigua) juſt going in, which thro' this Engliſhman he offer'd to pilot, but when he was on board, they were confounded with the Deceit, he ſecur'd the ſhip, ſitted her out, and (after diſarming and giving the Pilot-Boat to his Priſoners) cruiz'd in her ſome Time: In Lat. 34 D. 30 M. he met with the Patience, which, after a ſmart Engagement that laſted 3 Hours and a half, (wherein the Captain was carried down wounded) ſtruck to him: As ſoon as he took the Patience, he went on board her with 25 Men, and (by adding his Sloop's and the Mary's to her's) mounted in her 18 carriage Guns, 3 and 4 Pounders, and 4 Swivels; and thus equipp'd, was come up on the 10th Inſtant (the Mary being in company) by the Walker Schooner, who engaged her, but finding her too ſtrong ſteer'd off; in the mean Time the Iſabella came up, when Capt. Twiſt firing his Prow Gun into her and boarding immediately, ſhe ſtruck, as did alſo the Mary to the Walker, who carried her into Frederica——Here it will not be improper to give our Readers ſome Account of the Treatment Capt. Brown, his Brother and ſome of the Crew met with after they ſtruck to Bernard, which we have from Capt. Brown's ſaid Brother, Mate of the Patience; he ſays, "As ſoon as we ſtruck, the Spaniards brought their ſhip along ſide of ours, came on board, and (beginning with me) immediately beat, cut and ſtabb'd thoſe of us that were upon Deck whom they had obſerv'd to fight, in a moſt cruel and barbarous manner; then they went to the wounded Captain in the Cabin, knock'd him down, broke a Piſtol about his ſhoulders, and ſtabb'd him, after they had done which, with the like Humanity they carried him up Feet foremoſt on the Deck, and threw him over into the Mary, where Bernard (as polite and humane as the Reſt) was immediately ſeen to jump or ſtamp three Times on his Breaſt, which occaſioned a Mortification ſoon after, and my unfortunate Brother's Death the 9th Day." It is to be hoped Monſ. Bernard will meet with a Reward, equivalent to the Treatment he gave to his Priſoners. The Perſon by whoſe Means he made moſt of his Captures, is named John Collins, was born at Newberry, and is now in Gaol here.

Juſt now we have the diſagreeable News, that the Schooner Charming Nelly, Iſaac Colcock Maſter, which ſail'd from hence Yeſterday Morning for Antigua, was taken about 5 o'Clock in the Afternoon, juſt over the Bar, by a Spaniſh Privateer Schooner, of 8 Carriage Guns, and about 30 Men, commanded by Fernandez Lagunea, who gave Capt. Colcock his Boat, to return here in, and told him, he had taken a large Snow, the Rebeccah, Capt. Henderwell, who ſail'd a few Days ago from hence, bound to Cape-Fear, and a Sloop from Boſton to the ſame Place.

BOSTON, November 2.

On the 22d of October paſt, a ſad accident happened at Grafton: A man as he was digging a well, and had got down about 20 feet, met with a rock, which he purpoſing to blow up with powder, three lads and an Indian went down with him to obſerve his method; having drill'd a Hole, he put in a quantity of powder ſufficient for the purpoſe, and fixed a priming wire in the middle, enclos'd it with clay and brick duſt, ſo that that he was oblig'd to ſtrike the wire with his hammer to get it out, by the force of which it is thought the wire ſtruck fire upon the rock, ſo that it immediately blew up, and ſorely wounded them; one of them, ſon to the Revd. Mr. Prentice, late miniſter of the town, had his leg ſhatter'd to pieces, and was ſo much bruis'd, that he dy'd on Saturday morning following: Another of the Lads had his jaw bone broke, and is wounded, that 'tis thought he can't recover: The others, tho' much hurt, are like to do well.

Claudius Veron Maſter, mounts 10 Carriage Gun, had 45 Men, ſeveral of which were killed in the Engagement, and was bound from Bourdeaux for Martineco, but falling to Leeward, deſigned for Cape Francois: She is near 200 Tons, and is laden with Wine, Flour, Beef, Soap, Candles, Cordage, &c. The Names of the Men killed, are Benj. Olive, Tho. Hicky, Rich. May, Rob. Haws, Cor. Macgra, Tho. Roſe, and J. Allen. Capt. Bevan was left in Chace of a Brig.

Extract of a Letter to his Excellency from Col. Roberts, dated Albany, October 24.

"I've juſt now Advice, that a Party of a Serjeant and 18 Men, of Capt. Robinſon's Company, poſted at Kinderhook, returning from Dirk Van Slyk's, about 3 Miles from their Quarters, where they had been ſent to buy Proviſions, were attack'd by about 40 French and Indians; our People behaved exceeding well and after ſeveral Fires repulſed the Enemy; who taking another Tour, Way laid them again before they got to their Quarter, and then made a ſecond Attack, with near double the Number they had at firſt, but with the ſame Succeſs. We had one killed (the only Man that endeavoured to make his Eſcape) and three wounded. There were ſeveral Indians dropt, which were carried off in Blankets.

October 25. This Afternoon an Onieda Indian, brought in the Scalp of a French Indian, which he with four more Onieda Indians had taken on the Eaſt Side of the Lake Champlain.
